Pre K-4

Wow! The transitions are completed. In the classroom we have a lot of new friends. What a great way to start the year. There were several that started from the twos room this summer. We would like to welcome all the new families and students to our class.

Parents you can bring in an extra outfit to put in your child's cubby. Anything you bring to school please put your child's name on it. If your child sleeps with a stuffed animal they can bring it in to rest with. On Friday's you will take home your rollee-pollee to wash it. Bring it back on Monday and please put it in their cubby. All book bags need to stay home unless you go to the public school. We want to make sure nothing comes to school that should stay home. We do this since we don't have a lot of room.

The curriculums for the month we will be exploring the classroom, getting to know all our new friends, teachers getting to know the children. We will learn to identify the shelf and what activity goes to each academic shelf, and proper placement of the activity. The children that have been in the room will continue activities and be a helper to the new children. This can help make the transitions smoother for our new friends. We will go over the rules in the room. Teachers will demonstrate the rules and activities to our friends. During this time we will be observing the children and their development on where they are in academic exploration. The classroom snack/ lunch menu is posted outside our class on the bulletin board. Lesson plan, daily schedule of our classroom and a monthly newsletter will also be posted on the bulletin board and on our website.

We are excited to start our year with having your child in the room. We look forward to working with all the children and getting to know all the parents.

Welcome to the room!
