

November Newsletter

The cold weather is officially here and here to stay. However, our class still loves to go out and play. Please remember to send those extra pair of clothes for the changing seasons and an extra sweatshirt is always nice to have in their cubby.

Last month we talked a great deal about pumpkins, leaves, and the new season. We explored farm life and learned all about our furry, feathered friends that live there. We talked about the resources, foods, and materials we get from farms and how they are a big part of our lives.

In the month of November we will talk about all the things we are thankful for and what it means to be thankful. Being kind, sharing, and working together are goals I have for this upcoming month. We will learn about Thanksgiving, why we celebrate it, and who had the first Thanksgiving. But before we talk about all the foods we stuff ourselves with on this lovely holiday, we will spend our first few weeks talking about our health. We will learn about all things that we need to keep us healthy like different foods, routines, activities and even behaviors.

Lastly, we are always expanding our vocabulary and learning new letters every two weeks. Please remember that the second week of each new lesson plan will be show and tell. Also, please be checking Shutterfly for reminders of our special days and any updates I have this month.

Always email me with any questions!
