February 2020

Newsletter

January was loads of fun and the kids really enjoyed learning about how others help their community through their jobs and volunteer work. We have some ambitious futures ahead of us with some children wanting to be police officers, doctors, nurses, chefs, baseball players, cowboys, fire fighters, and farmers. This class certainly has the potential to be great helpers in their communities!

February will bring lots of love with Valentine's Day coming up! We will be focusing the first half of the month on our feelings and how to treat our friends with lots of love. This is a skill that many of the kids are still developing and I think they will benefit from learning how to express themselves through their words and not with their actions. The classroom will be decked out with tons of hearts and valentine's artwork to get ready for our party. Please refer to the email that was sent out about the upcoming party on Friday the 14th.

The children will also get to experience how it is like to be 100 years old! We have finally made it to the 100th day of school! We will spend an entire day dressed as old people having fun and completing activities. We will also practice counting all the way to 100!

The second half of the month will be centered around Dr. Seuss! We will have some special dress up days and learn all about rhyming words. We will learn how to be silly and start the process of creating our own silly story! The kids always enjoy these kind of weeks, and I will be participating in being just as silly as they are.

This month will be packed with lots of fun and a whole lot of learning. I am looking forward to it and I hope the children will like all of the experiments, silly dress up days, and all the love they're going to share!

If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to email me, call the school, or find me at drop off or pick up!
