October Newsletter

Hello October!

It has been so nice getting to know each and every child this past month! In September we explored our entire classroom to see how everything worked, and we got to learn all about our friends with our all about me lesson!

For the first half of October, we will be learning about the farm. We will explore different crops that farmers plant, what animals live on the farm, and sort animals by size. We will use our fine motor skills to make a seed mosaic, as well as learning our first sight word! We will do different sight words each week to get us prepared to start reading!

For the remainder of October, we will be learning all about Autumn. With the cooler weather, and the leaves changing, I am hoping to bring the outdoor classroom indoors. We will be picking leaves and transferring them to paper to see the different parts of the leaves. We will learn the life cycle and parts of a tree. We will also get to use our sense of touch and explore the different parts of an apple. The students will be able to see and feel the inside of a pumpkin. We will be more hands on with our sense of touch for the end of October!

REMINDERS

With the cooler weather approaching, please make sure your child has a sweatshirt or a jacket. It is still a little chilly when we go out in the morning.

Bring a family photo to add to our family tree!
